—Come now, take it on general principles of right, and why should miners longer be excluded from the Black Hills? They'll take care of themselves.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

—Amos Bues, a negro, and one of the murderers of Mrs. Cochran and her daughter, was taken to Eden, Georgia, the scene of the crime, Wednesday night, and while under guard in the warehouse, he was shot and instantly killed by a negro, who escaped. —The width of the chasm between the two financial wings of the Democratic party increases in direct proportion to the number of caucuses held. During the gossip to-night at the hotels it was said that August Belmont spent $50,000 on behalf of the party while he was Chairman of the National Committee, and that Augustus Scheil has already spent $10,000 during his brief incumbency. HOUSE.

The House met at 10 o'clock A. M.

Jurisdiction of Aldermen.

Mr. GRAHAM presented two petitions from citizens of Pittsburgh praying for the passage of an act increasing the jurisdiction of Aldermen in cities of the second and third classes.

Local Option.

Mr. THORNTON reported from the Committee on Vice and Immorality affirmatively an act to repeal the local option law in the borough of Braddocks.

The Centennial Appropriation.

Mr. REIGHARD, from the Committee on Appropriations, made a statement in reference to a bill providing for the seasonable payment of the one million dollars appropriated to the Centennial Commission. He said the bill had been reported in a mistake negatively, but that the committee had considered the matter this morning, and had resolved to let the bill remain as it was reported.

Mr. HUHN thought that under these circumstances the bill was improperly before the House, and therefore moved that it be recommitted. Not agreed to.

The State Treasury.

Mr. REIGHARD, from the committee appointed by the House last session to investigate the affairs of the State Treasury, submitted a report, which was read.

The report and testimony make a formidable looking document, setting forth that a loan of $3,200,000 had been unconstitutionally diverted from the Sinking Fund, and that an average monthly balance had been retained for many years in the hands of the State Treasurer of $2,100,000, on which the State had received no interest.

The committee acknowledge that the Treasurer found some justification for the withdrawal from the Sinking Fund in an act of the Legislature of 1870, but consider, nevertheless, that he should have obeyed the Constitution. There had also been a failure to invest the quarterly balance by reducing the State debt.

The committee say that if the State had received interest in the sum of $2,100,000, the average amount which for twelve years had been in the Treasury, she would, at five per cent., have obtained $1,200,000. The committee had to subpœna State Treasurer Mackey and ex-State Treasurers M'Grath, Kemble and Irwin. Of these Mackey had alone appeared, but ultimately had denied the authority of the committee, and he and the remainder of the gentlemen had contemptuously disregarded the subpoenas. It now remained for the House to take such action as it thought necessary.

The report was laid on the table. It was signed by all the Democrats on the committee.

Mr. BAILEY, Republican, gave notice that he would present a minority report of the investigation committee, based upon the fact that the present State Treasurer had really opened the records of his office to the investigating committee.

Bills Read in Place.

By Mr. MILLER, one empowering Courts of Quarter Session to appoint additional Supervisors.

By Mr. VOGDES, one to authorize building associations to co-operate with each other in mutually insuring dwellings and to hold property of their members against loss by fire.

By Mr. ROBERTS, one for the protection of farmers and owners of cattle, horses, sheep and swine along the line of railroads.

By Mr. DICKEY, one to prevent fraudulent conveyances.

An act authorizing a change in width of State plank and township roads.

FORTY-FOURTH CONGRESS.

(FIRST SESSION.)

The Bill to Amend the Refunding Act Passed by the Senate.

The Military Academy Appropriation.

WASHINGTON, February 25, 1876.

SENATE.

Refunding of the National Debt.

On motion of Mr. SHERMAN the Senate proceeded to the consideration of the bill reported by the Finance Committee on Wednesday last to amend the acts of July 14, 1870, and January 20, 1871, to authorize the refunding of the national debt.

Mr. SHERMAN explained the bill, and said it was recommended by the Secretary of the Treasury. It provided that four and a half per cent. bonds should run thirty years instead of fifteen years, and increased the amount from three hundred million to five hundred million dollars.

After some debate the Senate passed without amendment the bill. The vote on the passage of the bill was yeas 51 and nays 5. Those voting in the negative were Messrs. Cockrell, Eaton, McCreery, McDonald and Robertson.

The bill as passed amends the acts named so as to provide that the amount of bonds bearing four and one-half per cent. interest authorized to be issued be increased to five hundred million dollars, and that they be payable at the pleasure of the United States after thirty years from the date of their issue, instead of after fifteen years. It also provides that the act shall not be construed to authorize any increase of the total amount of bonds provided for by the acts named, nor to authorize any increase whatever of the bonded debt of the United States.

Revolutionary War Claims.

Mr. MORRILL (Vt.), from the Committee on Revolutionary War Claims, reported adversely on the bill to provide for the settlement of claims of officers of the Revolutionary army and widows and children of those who died in the service, and it was indefinitely postponed.

Agricultural Reports.

Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN, from the Committee on Agriculture, reported favorably on the House resolution to print extra copies of the report of the Commissioner of Agriculture for the year 1873. Passed.

Military Academy.

Mr. ALLISON called up the House bill making appropriations for the support of the Military Academy for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1877.

The first amendment reported by the Committee on Appropriations was for additional pay of Professors for length of service $6,800.

After debate Mr. KELLY gave notice of an amendment which he would submit at the proper time providing that each of the Professors at West Point whose term of service exceeds ten years shall have the rank, pay and allowance of a Colonel; those whose term of service exceeds five years and less than ten, the rank, pay and allowance of a Lieutenant Colonel, and others the rank, pay and allowance of a Major.

Pending the discussion the Senate went into executive session, and soon after adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE.

District of Columbia Bonds.

Mr. BUCKNER, from the Conference Committee on the bill to pay the interest on 3.65 bonds of the District of Columbia, made a report.

After discussion, the House refused to second the previous question on the conference report, and a motion to postpone for a week was agreed to.

Gen. Schenck and the Emma Mine.

Mr. SWANN, from the Committee on Foreigh Affairs, reported back the correspondence furnished that committee by the State Department in reference to the connection of General Schenck, the American Minister to England, with the Emma mine and the Mechado claim. Ordered printed and referred back to the Committee on Foreign Affairs for further consideration.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the private calendar, and after passing a number of bills the committee rose and the House adjourned. The session to-morrow will be for general debate only.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, February 25, 1876.

Plymouth Church.

At a business meeting of Plymouth church to-night, the report of the Examining Committee was read by Brother Tilney. It recites Brother White's grievances against H. C. Bowen, how the latter was asked for essential facts relating to Beecher, and in reply he only read what was nearly altogether a vindication of his own conduct, with a report of a confession made to him ten years ago by a woman not named or identified, and how he refused to answer their questions, and precipitately withdrew. [Great laughter.]

In conclusion, the committee recommended, in view of Bowen's refusal to answer and his precipitate withdrawal, that he be called before the church at a business meeting on Wednesday evening next, to answer orally questions as to the accusations against the pastor in his letters of February 4 and February 23. [Applause.]

Brother McKay moved that Bowen be summoned before the Examining Committee to give him another chance to appear and vindicate himself.

S. V. White moved an amendment that in default thereof Bowen be cast out as a slanderer, acting in defiance of his obligations [great applause], that he be summoned before the committee and notified, unless he gives names &c., that he would be cast out at the next business meeting. [Applause.]

Mr. White said they should stand trifling no longer. There was no other example of a church being so hampered by a brother. But one other brother had the decency to go and hang himself. [Great applause and laughter.] He thought Bowen ought to be excommunicated. [Applause.]

Mr. Beecher here interposed, and deprecated these manifestations of approval or merriment. He said while there might be ludicrous features connected with the case of the brother, yet it was a solemn thing for a church to cast out any member, and he (Bowen) was one of the founders of the church, and is a member, and the more tantalizing his conduct the more sad the spectacle. He hoped they would deal with the matter with solemnity. In his own thoughts it was in the nature of an execution and funeral.

After more discussion, during which Brother Raymond called Brother McKay to order for gesticulating at him, attributing motives to him, Mr. Beecher said although most questions ought to be settled by the committee, he was opposed to sending this matter back to them. It was a peculiar case, and he did not wish Bowen to be able to say the committee were his (Beecher's) relatives and friends but have the whole matter disposed of by the church, which could not in any way be called a packed tribunal. [Applause.]

Mr. McKay then withdrew his resolution.

Mr. Shearman said they wanted to deal with Bowen as a member. They had more affection for him than ever, and didn't want to part with him just now. [Laughter.] He gave them as his chief fact a statement by a woman, and he (Shearman) pledged his reputation for sagacity that she was a dead woman. [Laughter.] He judged this from Bowen's heart and history, and his dragging the grave and the brothel for evidence and relying on the dead to support his honor and word. They had succeeded in getting him to fix the period at between ten and twenty-five years, but unfortunately for him, the study and prayer meetings to which he refers did not exist together. [Laughter.] They had got their dear Brother Bowen on the facts. Bowen declared his willingness to go before any three of several men he named. These are now appointed commissioners, and let him go before them, and he being a member the whole proceedings would be privileged. [Applause.]

The resolution of the Examining Committee was unanimously adopted.

"CROOKED" WHISKY.

The Case of Wm. McKee in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, February 25.—In the United States Circuit Court to-day Col. Hatch, counsel for Wm. McKee, filed an affidavit in support of the motion for a new trial. Some editorials from the Republican, which are claimed to have prejudiced the case against the defendant, were also filed. The affidavit mentioned is by Watson Foster, of Louisiana, Pike county, Missouri, who charges H. F. Summers, a juror in the McKee trial, with having prejudiced the case by stating previous to the trial that he believed McKee was guilty, and that he was the "biggest toad in the puddle." The court ordered the defendant to have leave until the 5th of March to file an additional affidavit, the prosecution ten days thereafter to answer the same, and the defendant to have till the 20th to file testimony in rebuttal.

The question of sentencing the parties who had been convicted in this court was broached, and Judge Dillon said the proper way seemed to be to let the cases stand as they were until the motions for new trials were disposed of, to which District Attorney Dyer acquiesced, as that course would best subserve the interests of the Government.

PARIS, February 25.—The La Liberte reports that a meeting of Moderate Republicans was held yesterday at the residence of ex-President Thiers. The question of granting amnesty to Communists was considered and a proposition made that a Committee on Pardons be appointed which shall be less severe than the former committee, and permit those persons to return to France who are innocent of crimes against the common law and those who were more misguided than guilty. This measure was offered as a substitute for the radical proposal of complete amnesty.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, February 25, 1876.

Gen. Schenck and the Emma Mine.

The Secretary of State, in a communication to the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, in reference to General Schenck's connection with the Emma Silver Mining Company, says on November 27th, 1871, General Schenck addressed a telegram to the Department, giving his reasons for becoming a director, and offering to withdraw from the board, or take such course as should be advised. To this a telegram by the Secretary was sent on the following day, to the effect that although it was the privilege of every citizen to invest in such honest enterprises as he deemed proper, the advertisement of the name of a diplomatic representative as director of a company seeking to dispose of its shares in the country to which he was accredited was ill-advised, unfortunate, and calculated to subject him to criticism; that it was assumed that he was no party to the publication, and concluding with the earnest advice to withdraw his name from the management of the company, General Schenck thereupon withdrew from the Board. Upon the 20th of December, General Schenck addressed a telegram to the Department in reference to a dispatch that had appeared in the London Times, referring to a resolution of inquiry, said to have been adopted in the Senate, desiring to know whether it had reference to him, and expressing his readiness for an investigation. General Schenck further refers to some proceedings on the part of such committee in his letter of January 10th. As no such resolution of inquiry had come to this Department, a reply was sent to the dispatch above referred to, to that effect on the following day, and the telegram was understood to manifest the readiness of Gen. Schenck to immediately meet any investigation and demonstrate the sincerity of his convictions on the value of the enterprise in which he had invested.

"As the resolution of the House makes a reference to the action of the Executive Department of the Government on this question, I deemed it due to General Schenck, as a public officer who has had various and important public trusts, and who has for many years occupied a prominent position before the country, to further state that the course adopted in the Department, growing out of these facts was based on a conviction that while the use of the name of the Minister of the United States in such an enterprise was inconsistent with his position, at the same time that Gen. Schenck had been guilty of no wrong purpose or intent in connecting himself with the company in question. I remain firmly of this opinion, and am further satisfied that he, in common with many others, became a sufferer thereby."

The Secretary then responded to that part of the resolution asking information concerning the action taken by the Executive Department concerning the connection of the ministers in Europe with the prosecution of the Mechado claim against the British Government. He gives a history of the case, and concludes by saying: "So far as reflections have been cast upon General Schenck because of the prosecution of these claims, or because of the presentation of them by him to the British Government, a sense of justice compels me to say that I am satisfied that such reflections are unjust, and that General Schenck is open to no imputations whatever arising therefrom."

STATE LEGISLATURES.

LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, February 25.—In the House during the morning hour Mr. Kidd, a Democrat of Jackson parish, offered the following:

I move that a committee of seven be appointed by the Speaker to investigate what charges, if any, against Gov. Wm. P. Kellogg demand his impeachment, and that they report as early as practicable.

Mr. Matthews, a Republican, of Tenvas parish, raised a point of order that this was an order of the House, not a motion, and could not be adopted without a suspension of the rules.

The Speaker everruled the point of order. Several Republican members demanded the yeas and nays. The Speaker declined to order the yeas and nays, and declared the motion carried. Later in the evening the Speaker announced a committee as follows: Wiltz, Young, Kidd, Koontz, Jeffries, Democrats; Levisses and Demas, Republicans.

Mr. Demas moved that there be three Republicans placed on the committee. The motion was tabled by a strict party vote. Of the five Democrats on the committee, all but Wiltz signed the Wheeler adjustment. This was a movement to take the Republicans by surprise, as they did not anticipate any impeachment movement until after the Mardi Gras festival.

Governor Kellogg to-night addressed to the committee a formal communication, stating: I respectfully request to be informed when your committee proposes to enter upon this investigation, in order that I may appear in person or by counsel, as provided by section 1,739 of the Revised Statutes.

MISSISSIPPI.

MEMPHIS, February 25.—The Appeal's Jackson (Miss.) special says in the House to-day the resolution impeaching Governor Ames of high crimes and misdemeanors in office was adopted—yeas 86, nays 14. Sixteen Republicans were absent. All present and two Democrats, Crossland and Warren, voted No.

LOUISIANA IMPEACHMENT.

The Senate Cavened in Extra Session to Sit a a Court of Impeachment if Necssary.

NEW ORLEANS, February 25.—Governor Kellogg has issd a proclamation convening the Senate extra session, to commence immediate on the expiration of the present regular session on Thursday, March 2d, and continue r and during the space of ten days, for the purpose of considering any executive or our business that may be brought before the, or for the purpose of sitting as a court impeachment if necessary.

The impression among Republicans seems to be that it was the purpose of the House to adopt articles of impeachment against the Governor and Lieutenant Governor on the last day of the session, which would suspend them from office and leave the Speaker of the House Acting Governor under the Constitution. It is believed the convening of the Senate in extra session will operate to quiet the impeachment schemes.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

Miss Effie Ellsler had a rousing benefit last night. The size and spirit of the audience was a worthy and well deserved recognition of the ability of the fair beneficiary. It constituted also the evidence of the rapidity with which she is mounting in popular estimation. She played the part of Rosalind in "As You Like It." This character Miss Ellsler has, we believe, made a specialty, and the care, accuracy, force and spirit that marked her impersonation of it show how completely she comprehended the role and its requirements. There is no need to say that her acting was satisfactory. The audience gave it the meed of their warmest commendation. Mr. Gotthold interpreted the part of Jaques. We never saw him render a Shakesperian character,—in which but few excel him—in a manner more graceful and artistic than distinguished his Jaques. His description of seven ages of man was particularly fine and got the applause it merited. As Orlando Mr. Pendleton created a better impression than he did in "The Avalanche." He has a marvelously fine voice. It is clear, rich and full as the notes of an organ. Together with his manly and dignified bearing, and a judicious use of his large dramatic knowledge and ability, he so made his way to the favor of his auditors as to assure himself of a warm welcome in the event of a future visit to Pittsburgh. Mr. Ow[illegible] Touchstone, Mr. Crompton's Duke Fred, Mr. Ellis' Banished Duke, Mr. De[illegible] Adam, Miss Hastings' Audrey, Mr. [illegible]rley's Oliver and Miss Fletcher's Celia all good efforts and added very much the success and pleasure of the performance. "As You Like It" will be repeated at the matinee this afternoon. This evening "The Avalanche" again.

At the end of the third act, when Miss Ellsler had been called in front of the curtain and before she could retire again, Mr. W. D. Moore stepped forward and presented her, in behalf of Pittsburgh friends, with an elegant gold and pearl cross of great value. In return Miss Ellsler expressed her very heartiest thanks, but the emotion which the unexpected kindness evoked almost choked her words. It was quite a pleasant interruption of the entertainment.

The Newsboys' Concert.

There was a moderately large audience at the Academy of Music last night. The galleries were filled with newsboys and bootblacks, and there was a fair sprinkling of the gamins in the orchestra and parquette. The fact that it was the newsboys and bootblacks concert made the boys of the pave consider themselves at home, and throughout the evening they conducted themselves with a bohemian freedom that was as captivating to the audience as it was strange to them. The programme prepared for the concert was not adhered to, and the boys' unfamiliarity with stage business made the performance drag in places. The music was furnished by Staly's Military Band, and in some instances their selections were creditably rendered. The interest of the audience, however, was centered in the performance of the boys, and whenever any of the mischievous urchins appeared the house applauded vigorously. The boys lost none of their reckless independence so long as they were kept together in a crowd on the stage, but when fate doomed two of them to a duet they came before the footlights with so forlorn an appearance that the audience roared. One of the very amusing features of the concert was the performance of the "Mulligan Guards." Eighty boys were cast in the sketch, and no two of them were dressed alike, as each wore his business suit. All of them had difficulty with their legs, which they dragged along as if they were weighted, and occasional spit-balls propelled from the galleries did not seem to add any life to their movements.

The ballad was sung by Eddy Brakely, in a manner that would have done credit to a professional. The only really happy boys in the line, apparently, were a couple who followed close upon the standard bearer. That dignitary, impressed with the responsibility of his office, was as grave as an undertaker, and his constrained, stilted movements, were aped by his two followers with such grotesquerie that the spectators were convulsed with laughter.

Eddy Brakely was down on the bills for a song and dance, and his confreres in the gallery were aching for him to come on. In the second part, after an orchestral innovation by the band, a cloud of boys were marched on the stage, and formed in a hollow square, with a gap in the right line, and a second after Eddy slouched in from the wing, in the character of "Little Sam," and gorgeous in an illuminated pantaloons of red and white, and a flaming scarlet checked shirt. His gait was a perfect imitation of the flat foot shuffle of the plantation darkey, and there was a scared look in his imperfectly blackened face. The gentleman who officiated at the piano seemed to only have a bowing acquaintance with that instrument, and the time that Little Sam had to dance to was wretchedly thrummed. When he first began he was bothered with a church going propensity in one of his legs, but after the first few steps, he kicked it loose, spat on his hands, and went in for a reputation. His voice is remarkably clear and musical, and he dances with the grace and ability of a professional. He was applauded to the echo, and in response to the encore he repeated his little song, and as he was beginning the second verse of the repetition, somebody threw him a handsome boquet from one of the boxes, and paralyzed him for a moment. He looked at the tribute with a pleased, foolish smile on his intelligent little face, and made a desperate start at the third verse, but the boquet was too much for him, and he found it necessary to lay it carefully at the footlights until he finished his performance, when he took possession of it again and bore it proudly from the stage. The comic bashfulness of two of the boys who several times essayed a duet with the ballad of "Paddle your own Canoe" provoked frequent outburts of laughter.

The concert ended with an orchestral selection by the band. Financially, the concert was not so successful as its promoters could have wished, yet a decisive step has been taken to create a nucleus, around which to build a Home for the boys.

Trimble's Varieties.

The performances at Trimble's open yet with the conservatory minstrels, a feature which has held its attractiveness and popularity to such an extent that the manage has not felt justified in abolishing it. This is followed by the Bennott sisters in their "Scotch Straphsey," Lottie Brown, Tierney & Cronin, the plantation jig dancers, Eloise Allen, Fields & Hoey, the funniest "musical coons" on the variety stage, the Freeman sisters in their new and amusing sketches, and a number of other artists just as good as these mentioned. Two performances will be given as usual to-day—afternoon and evening.

····Several months ago a daughter of J. B. Holmes was a pupil of the Pittsburgh Female College. Mr. H. not paying the bill, Dr. Pershing on the withdrawal of the young lady from the school, held her trunk as security for the amount of tuition and board. Mr. Holmes thereupon entered an information before 'Squire McMasters, charging Dr. Pershing with larceny by bailee. The case was heard, and dismissed at the cost of the prosecutor. Mr. W. D. Moore was attorney for the defendant. Sometime after the termination of the suit Mr. Holmes went to Mr. Moore and got him to write a letter to Dr. P., asking permission to obtain from the trunk certain articles of wearing apparel. Dr. Pershing denied the request. Mr. Holmes again called upon Mr. Moore to intercede, but he refused, saying that he had already overstepped the bounds of legal practice in inditing the first letter. Upon his refusal Mr. Holmes wrote a letter to Mr. Moore, threatening him with exposure as a thief, liar, scoundrel and other endearing and elevating terms. Mr. Moore thereupon swore out a warrant before 'Squire McMasters for the arrest of Holmes on the charge of sending a threatening letter, for which a special statute provides punishment. Mr. H. being the traveling salesman for a South Side glass firm, was not found until Thursday, when he was in the city and was arrested. He had a hearing and was committed in default of $1,000 bail, but subsequently upon the payment of costs was released.

OUR PRISON POPULATION.

A Summary of the History of the Penitentiary During 1875.

The annual report of the Inspectors of the State Penitentiary shows that during 1875 the average number of prisoners was 509. During the year the business of employing the convicts was rather dull. The cigar business was greatly depressed, though 871,575 cigars were made. The total revenue of the prison amounted to $62,871.48, of which $17,539.40 is still due from the counties of the Commonwealth. The expenditures were $63,871.48. During the year there were but six deaths. In the same time the prisoners earned $1,653.79 by overwork. One hundred and eighty-seven prisoners were discharged during the year, of whom seventeen were colored. The greatest number of prisoners claimed Pennsylvania as the land of their nativity, and 68.26 per cent. of the convicts could read and write. Of the whole number 83 per cent. attended school during their confinement. Thirty-six per cent. of the prison population were moderate drinkers, and but six per cent. were temperate.

Among the prisoners there was one postmaster, three bigamists and one murder of the first degree. There was one prisoner sentenced to 20 years, and one life prisoner. Of the whole number of prisoners Allegheny county contributed 214. The prison was remarkably healthy during the year; all the deaths were caused by pulmonary consumption, and those who died were in bad health when they entered the prison. During the year 20,711 books were distributed among the prisoners. The subject matter of the volumes was as follows: History, biography, miscellaneous, novels, morals, science, poetry, travels, magazines, and German. It is the general impression of the officers of the institution that the prisoners are greatly improved by uniform system of kindness.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 113.

THE effort to induce the President to drive Secretary BRISTOW out of the Cabinet, thus making Presidential capital for that gentleman, has entirely failed.

THE several New York papers, which have demonstrated BABCOCK'S guilt so conclusively, day after day, for a week past, must feel overjoyed at the result of their labors.

THE Prince of Wales' tiger killing experience was not the terrible affair it may, at first thought, be imagined to be. He was in a loopholed house, and the tiger, which had been well fed, was driven up and the Prince shot it four times, when it quietly died.

THE artists of this city have been hard at work preparing for the Centennial Exposition, and are said to have produced some very fine work. They have some trepidation as to whether the hanging committee, composed exclusively of Eastern artists, will recognize the value of the work of their Western brethren.

WE regret to notice the decease of Colonel JAMES K. KERR, one of our leading citizens. He expired at his residence, at the East End, yesterday morning. He was a prominent member of the bar, and a gentleman of extensive reading and travel. He has for a long time been in ill-health, and his death was not unanticipated.

THE New York Tribune show[s an occa]sional gleam of shrewdness in discove[ring] the political situation. Thus it says: "The only Presidential candidate who is making real headway on either side seems to be JAMES G. BLAINE. He has reasonable popularity with the people, and he is promptly gathering in the States, one by one, as the Conventions assemble. Mr. BLAINE has the immense advantage of knowing exactly what he wants, and exactly how to go to work to get it. If some other candidates, equally popular with the people, had anything like an equal knack of dealing with the men who control caucuses and Conventions, the present aspect of the Republican race might be somewhat different."

WE notice elsewhere the hostility of Senator WOOD to the loan for completing our water works. There is a phase to this question that was not developed in the remarks of Senators ANDERSON and NEWMYER. The works completed and in operation will begin to pay for themselves, thus saving taxation. For example, there are eleven miles of pipes through the city, particularly in the rural wards, where water is not now conducted, nor revenue derived. Add to this that our manufactories and machine shops are, to a large extent, compelled to pump water up from the river, where the city could supply it at less cost, were the water works in operation, and we have two sources of revenue, which would form a large item in our annual income,—and all this waits for an expenditure of only $300,000.

IS IT not about time the Democracy gave up the financial question,—on which they cannot harmonize, because they have no higher motive than to use an important question as a means of gaining political power. They seem to have entirely overlooked the essential fact, that what the country wants, is not skillful trimming, but honest measures, that will meet the demands of the times. We think the entire current of public sentiment is in the interest of the repeal of the Resumption act,—or of so much of it as provides for specie payments in 1879. There is, however, just enough opposition to this for the Democracy to be uncertain whether they will make or lose by acting on the question,—and this has determined them to do nothing. A party that cannot rise above chronic timidity, is hardly the one we want to rule the country. If the Democracy shall continue its halting, hesitating course, this alone will destroy it in the coming Presidential campaign. Already the people are disgusted at its lack of energy, and once the fact that it fails to act for fear of the responsibility is established, and it will be beaten out of sight in the Presidential struggle.

IN noticing the report of the West Penn Railroad, in which there is a falling off of $60,000 in its yearly receipts, we are led to inquire whether the policy pursued on that and other roads does not in part account for the results reached. It was this road which made the fight on our oil people when they sought to reach the city with their trade. The effort thus made for pipe lines was the result of heavy discriminations against our refiners, and in favor of Cleveland. Aside from the injury inflicted on Pittsburgh by a policy which drives an important branch of trade away, or cripples it in its operations, is the now palpable loss inflicted on one of the minor roads involved in the combination. The West Penn, with its connecting lines taps an important part of the oil regions, and with the improvement in prices, ought to be doing a thriving business. We think it would be, were it not to discriminate against our home trade, by co-operating with the combination that forms Cleveland. Why cannot our railroad men realize that the nearer producer and consumer are brought to each other, the better for both? And if this rule were applied to our petroleum trade, Pittsburgh would be the great refining centre of the world. There is no good reason why crude oil should be carted to Cleveland and the refined to the seaboard, when Pittsburgh is so much nearer to both points than Cleveland. When railroads suffer in their trade from the nonobservance of these obvious rules, stockholders and money lenders should carefully watch such roads.

SENATOR WOODS has proven himself an impractical legislator, by his opposition to the increase of our city debt, sufficiently to complete the new water works. The bill is amended so that but one-fourth of one per cent. increase can be had, which will afford barely enough to complete the works. Aside from the fact that the $4,000,000 expended on those works will be practically thrown away if they are not completed, we need those works, and the safety of the city may be said to depend on them. In the event of a great fire no one will pretend to think that our existing works will be of any value, and hence the importance of completing the new works as speedily as possible. Indeed, it has grown to be a common incident for portions of the city to be limited or entirely cut off, temporarily in its water supply, owing to the frequent breakages in the old works or engines. Add to this that the new works are contracted for and must be completed, and we have the full case. Dr. WOODS does not seem to realize that the people must be taxed for the amount in any event, and the only question is, whether this taxation shall fall on the people in a lump, in the midst of these hard times, —or be extended over a term of years. The attempt to set himself up as the champion of the people against taxation is silly buncombe. If he means what he says, why does he not use his influence with the Democracy in the House and prevent their squandering a quarter of a million of the people's money in a Centennial jamboree? In reality, his course serves to inflict sudden and severe taxation, in place of preventing it—as the water works must be finished and the contractors paid. It is conceded that the amount is cut down as low as is possible, and this done, no further opposition should be had. In his singling out Mr. LOWRY he is unmanly. If that gentleman is unsuited to the place he holds, let him be opposed directly; but an attempt to set him or his singular doings up as a pretext for opposing a measure, right in itself, is small and mean. We were opposed to an excessive increase of our debt, and now are; but this difficulty has been met by reducing the amount to be asked for to the small sum absolutely necessary to complete the water works. Senator WOODS may perfectly understand the atmosphere of the section from which he comes, but he does not represent Pittsburgh at large.

BRISTOW AND GRANT.

During the continuance of the BABCOCK trial, a very nice little side game has been played, intended to set the President and BRISTOW by the ears, and induce the former to drive the latter out of the Cabinet. Our belief is that Secretary BRISTOW is too much of a man to be a party to this scheme, but some one was very palpably playing it in his interest. President GRANT is entirely too astute to be caught by such chaff, and so has been courteous and cordial to his Secretary, and has given him no cause for offence. There are indications which point to Solicitor WILSON as rather promoting the intrigue, as a means of self glorification,—a method of being martyrized for the public good,—and personal notoriety. There can be no reasonable doubt that he has given expressions of a very independent character, which, when uttered, served to strengthen a suspicion that there was something in the rumors current on the subject. Outside of both circles, were politicians who were only too eager to have these gentlemen removed, in order that capital might be made out of it. They were actuated by two motives,—to injure the President, and help on Secretary BRISTOW'S chances for Presidential nomination. In order that the dismissal might not go unthought of, it was freely telegraphed to the leading papers as an event likely to occur very soon, and to insure enough feeling on the part of the President to make the change, independent and not complimentary expressions, purporting to come from BRISTOW and WILSON, were freely published. But th[e] little game has not worked well. President GRA[NT is quite sharp enough] to see that all this w[as] [illegible] but an effort of his enemies to put him in a [illegible] false position. For him to compel the resignat[ion] of Secretary BRISTOW, at this time, would be [in]terpreted as an act of revenge for the indictment of BABCOCK, and as indicative of an intention to abandon the prosecution of the whisky cases. Undoubtedly the President was and is a strong friend of BABCOCK, and a believer in his innocence; and he no doubt thinks his Secretary to have been maliciously pursued; yet he is not the person to lose balance of mind, and strike wildly around, in a spirit of revenge. On the contrary, he is a self-contained man, who is apt to carefully mature his plans, and to act in the light of important facts, and not of personal feeling. Add to this that he has been and is perfectly sincere in his desire to let no guilty man escape, and we have the key to his entire course of action. We have a suspicion that there was truth in the report that he inspired the letter of Attorney General PIERREPONT against showing so much clemency to those who, guilty themselves, turn informers for a consideration. His view was and is, that the guilty should be punished. Thus honest and earnest, he would not be at all likely to strike at BRISTOW, unless he had the clearest evidence that the latter had maliciously pursued BABCOCK, and this was not the case. BRISTOW is above such things as that.

So on the other hand, we estimate him as superior to the small trickery of seeking a nominal dismissal, in order that it may be made useful for a Presidential nomination. He undoubtedly has had influential friends, who have thought it good policy to have him martyrized; but they were bad counselors. There is no evidence that the Secretary fell into this trap, or was involved in this plan. Well for him if he was not; for Secretary BRISTOW will gain more popularity, and secure a higher standing within the ranks of his party, by adhering to his duties, and rigidly prosecuting the whisky thieves, than by any small intrigues into which he can possibly engage. We think he is man enough to know this, and to act on this theory. Such being the case, all this talk of ill-feeling between the President and Secretary vanishes, and they stand, unitedly ready to prosecute frauds against the revenue to their farthest limit.

It will be gratifying if the miserable conspiracy to create discord in the Cabinet, to the injury of all parties, shall fail. Certainly, if the course was pursued that is marked out by these intriguers, Secretary BRISTOW would not fail to suffer. President GRANT is too careful to act on mere suspicion, and hence if he acted at all it would be on evidence incriminating BRISTOW. Under such circumstances this would find the light. In any event, the Secretary could not be nominated as President as a mere factionist. He could not go out of the Cabinet on terms of unfriendliness with the President, and be made the Republican nominee for President; and, to accept a Democratic nomination under the circumstances, would be ruinous. Therefore, this game, assuming it to have been played by injudicious friends of the Secretary, would only have wrought him harm. It is well he has had the manliness, apparently, to avoid the danger, and to act an open, honest part. We have not much faith in his prospects as a Presidential candidate, at all; but should he fail to act in accord with the President, who called him to his high position, or else honorably retire from his office, he would have no chance at all.

A Snow-Storm in the Sierra Nevada.

I will give you a slight description of a snow-storm in the Sierra Nevada, as witnessed by me this winter. It is one of the wildest scenes ever witnessed by a human being. The first approach of a storm begins by a gentle, low murmur among the mountain-pines, increasing hour after hour, until it reaches what is called here a Washoe zephyr. The Washoe Valley is very wide in comparison to the narrow divides between the mountains where this zephyr has to pass. When all is ready for a full blow, it rages, tears, snorts, twists, jumps, rips, screams, splits, doubles up, dives under, and comes up,—driving, whirling, thumping, and stretching out, until hill and mountain are one vast sheet of wild commotion. It takes weeks for a storm of this kind to spend itself. If any other country can scare up a storm that will beat this Alpine storm of America, we would all like to hear of it.

What Floored Him.

A very distinguished lawyer of Richmond, who has passed the meridian of life, and has "won a high renown" as an orator and jurist, was addressing a court recently, and was in the midst of a brilliant argument, when he saw his wife—the idol of his heart—enter the room. He at once grew confused, and concluded with some abruptness. It was the first time that his wife had ever heard him speak. Fearful that he would not make a decidedly favorable impression upon her, he, who had triumphantly faced judges, juries, legislative assemblages, mass meetings, political conventions, and the best of the literati, succumbed, and before one who, in her love for him, would have only seen the gems of his speech, and whose criticisms would have been fullest praise.—Petersburg (Va.) Index.

STREET CAR SARDINES.

Never fail; pack them in,
Move up fat man, crowd in thin;
Trunks, valises, boxes, bundles,
Fill up gaps as on she trundles;
Market baskets without number,
Owners easy, nod in slumber.
Thirty seated, forty standing,
A dozen or more on either landing;
Old man lifts his signal finger,
Car slacks up, but does not linger,
He's jerked about by sleeve or shoulder,
Shoved inside to a seat and smoulder.
Toes are trod on, hats are smashed,
Dresses soiled and hoopskirts crashed.
Thieves are plenty bent on plunder;
Still we rattle on like thunder;
Packed together, unwashed bodies,
Bathed in fumes of whisky toddies.
Tobacco, garlic, cheese and beer
Perfume the heated atmosphere;
Old boots, pipes, leather and tan,
And, if in luck, the soap-fat man;
Aren't we jolly; what a blessing,
A horse car hash with such a dressing.

THE election in Albion, Erie Co., was made interesting from the fact that nearly every voter in the borough was voted for. The election returns shows that 88 persons received one or more votes, out of a total poll of 100. Of this number twenty-seven received votes for Council, with six to be elected.

A FUNNY story is told by an exchange newspaper of two Butler county farmers who are not grangers. They influenced their wives to join and report before they would commit themselves. Now, when they will they cannot. Two black balls greet every application. Meanwhile the wives go regularly and triumphantly to every meeting of the Gra[nge and] the men stop at home to mind the babies.

HOME NEWS.

The probabilities for to-day are a stationary or falling barometer, warmer, southeast to south winds, and increasing cloudiness.

Social and Supper.

A delightful time is anticipated at the social and supper to be given by the ladies at the South Common M. E. church, on Church avenue, near Federal street, Allegheny, on Tuesday evening the 29th. We advise all to attend, as there will be special and unusual attractions.

Found Drowned.

The body of Isaac Thomas, a South Side blacksmith, was found floating in the Monongahela river yesterday forenoon. He disappeared on the 24th of December last, while in a state of intoxication, and was not again heard of until his body was found. The Coroner was notified and last evening held an inquest, the verdict of the jury being "found drowned." The deceased was employed by Chess, Smythe & Co., and leaves a wife and several children, residing in Union alley, South Side.

Seriously Hurt.

While the driver of a South Side brewer's wagon was passing Henry Tatnall's residence on Second avenue, last evening, he attempted to get off the wagon while the horses were moving, and his feet catching in the traces he was thrown to the ground. The wheels passed over him, mashing one shoulder, dislocating a knee-cap, and otherwise injuring him. He was carried into Mr. Tatnall's house, and after receiving proper surgical assistance was removed to his residence on Seventeenth street, South Side. Neither the man's name nor the brewery for which he was driving could be ascertained.

Destructive Fire at Saltsburg.

About 12 o'clock on Thursday night fire was discovered in one of a block of four frame houses in Saltsburg, owned by 'Squire B. R. Harrison, of Port Perry. There were no facilities for staying the fire, and in a short time every building in the block was in flames, and before 2 o'clock they were reduced to ashes. Three of the houses were occupied. Mr. Wylie, a storekeeper for W. H. Brown & Co., coal dealers, and Robert Little, manager for Mr. Henderson, resided in two of the houses, and suffered the loss of most of their household goods. The loss was about $3,000. The buildings were partially insured. From the fact that the fire originated in the empty house, it is supposed that it was the work of an incendiary.

New Ordinance Regulating Peddling.

The Ordinance Committee met yesterday afternoon in the City Clerk's office, Mr. James Kerr in the chair. Mr. MacConnell's act providing for separate instead of joint committees of Councils, was affirmatively recommended. The ordinance regulating the sale of merchandise from boats, cars, wharves, landings, railroad sidings and depots within the city limits, and providing that all parties engaged in making sales from such places shall pay a license fee of $100, was affirmatively recommended with an amendment exempting all retail dealers from the provisions of the bill. The penalty fixed for the violation of this proposed law is $500. It is a revival of the peddler's ordinance, which proved the prolific source of so much discussion a few weeks ago.

[illegible]PTED SUICIDE.

The Proprie[illegible] a Third Avenue Dive The U[illegible] Mortal.

Fred. Myers, the p[illegible] of a "dive" on Third avenue, near Mar[illegible] street, went to Torrenz's drug store last ev[illegible] and purchased three bottles of bed bug po[illegible] an article largely composed of corrosi[illegible] sublimate. After reaching his establishment he deliberately swallowed the contents of one bottle. Being taken with griping pains almost immediately, his condition was discovered and a physician sent for, who, upon his arrival, removed the poison by the aid of a stomach pump. Myers' condition, however, was considered very critical when last heard from.

OBITUARY.

Col. James K. Kerr.

Col. James K. Kerr, well known as a leading member of the legal profession of Allegheny county, and a brother of Hon. M. C. Kerr, Speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives, died at three o'clock yesterday morning at his residence on Fifth avenue, in the East End. He was in the fifty-second year of his age. For several years past the deceased had been in ill health, and during the past two years had paid but little attention to business. He was born in Titusville in 1824. He studied law and became a member of the Venango county bar. For many years he was an active practitioner at the Allegheny county bar. He served in the late war from 1861 to 1863, enlisting in the Fourth Pennsylvania Cavalry, of which he became Colonel, succeeding Colonel Campbell and Colonel Childs. In politics he was a Democrat. An affection of the lungs is stated as the cause of his decease.

HOGGISH.

An East Liberty Stock Firm Defrauded of a Car Load of Hogs.

Orr & Williams, East Liberty stock dealers, were recently swindled out of a car load of hogs, worth $2,000. During the absence of the members of the firm in Philadelphia, establishing a branch office there, a man giving Allegheny as his residence called on the clerk and bought the porkers. The car was shipped to Allegheny, accompanied by a clerk, who informed the man that the hogs would not be unloaded until they were paid for. After some parleying the man gave his check and the animals were turned over to him. On the return of Messrs. Orr & Williams they placed the check in their deposit bank, but it was soon after returned with the information that there were no funds on deposit to the credit of the maker of the check. Information for false pretenses was at once made against the fraudulent pork dealer, whose name is said to be Rothschild, but owing to the lack of activity and efficiency on the part of the officer having the warrant, he escaped to the west, and it is said has joined the "innumerable caravan that moves in resistless column to explore for the glittering gold biding amidst the shades of the Black Hills."

A COOL TRANSACTION.

Swindled Out of Three Hundred and Fifty Dollars.

Day before yesterday a stranger, whose appearance was not calculated to awaken suspicion, called at the jewelry store of W. W. Wattles & Co., on Fifth avenue, and purchasing a pair of diamond studs valued at $80, tendered in payment a check on the Duquesne National Bank of this city, drawn by Chris. L. Magee, City Treasurer, in favor of W. H. Lemon for $385. Mr. Wm. Grier, who waited upon the customer, sent a boy around to the bank with the check, and ascertaining that it was all right, returned the man the change. On his way to dinner Mr. Grier stopped at the bank and discovered the check to be a forgery. Subsequently it [illegible] ascertained that a man [illegible] at the City Treasurer's office, [illegible] to Mr. W. M. De Camp a telegram [illegible] New York, signed by Mr. Magee, [illegible] to pay a bill of W. H. Lemon [illegible] A few moments later a stranger [illegible] presented the bill, and the [illegible] promptly drawn for the amount [illegible] transaction was discovered, Mr. [illegible] called upon Mr. Lemon, and was [illegible] that gentleman that a man had [illegible] the day and asked for a bill [illegible] was furnished him, and upon [illegible] doubtless made out the account [illegible] the check was obtained. The bank has notified Messrs. Wattles & Co. that they must be responsible for the loss, but they, acting upon the advice of an attorney, in view of the fact that the bank pronounced the check all right, and cashed it, object to assuming it. It is believed, too, that the check being bona fide, and drawn by the City Treasurer's clerk, the Treasurer will have to shoulder the loss.

ALDERMANIC ASSOCIATION.

Meeting at the Bank Exchange Last Evening—The Prospects of Appropriate Legislation.

The Aldermen's Association held a meeting last evening at their room, Bank Exchange, on Third avenue. Alderman O'Donnell presided and the Secretary, Alderman Cassiday, was present and performed the duties of that office. The meeting was a special one called to hear the report of the committees and the secretaries in regard to the progress in obtaining signatures to the petitions for increase of Aldermanic jurisdiction in civil cases.

The members present were Aldermen Donnelly, Logan, Cassiday, Crist, Koenig, Mercer, McKennan, Burke, Hartman, Fitzsimmons, Cochran, O'Donnell, Butler and Haddock.

The minutes of the last meeting, held on Friday evening last, were read and approved. At that meeting the Secretary was instructed to get up a bill of fees, to include those not specified in the law.

The Corresponding Secretary, Alderman Mercer, reported that he had written a letter to each member of the Legislature from Allegheny county, enclosing a copy of the petition for a law enlarging the power of aldermen. Replies were read from Messrs. Anderson, Long and Zern, speaking favorably of the petition, and pledging their efforts to secure the passage of the law. A vote of thanks was tendered the Legislators for their expressions of good will.

A number of additional petitions were handed in.

The condition of the treasury was stated by Alderman Logan. A surplus of $6.90 remains in his hands. The report was accepted.

An expression was called for from the Aldermen in regard to the feeling among the people in reference to the passage of the law increasing the jurisdiction of Aldermen. The universal expression was favorable to the bill. 'Squire O'Donnell stated that at least ten thousand names had been secured to the petition.

The meeting then adjourned until the next regular meeting night, which is the first Tuesday in March.

Marion Harland in her new cook book "Breakfast, Luncheon and Tea," recommends the use of Prepared or Self Raising Flour in preference to Cream of Tartar and Soda or Expensive Baking Powder.

FEAR small temptations rather than great ones. These come only now and then; those every day. Beware of being witty at the expense of reverence; sarcastic at the expense of charity; entertaining at the expense of truth; coarse at the expense of purity.

REV. W. G. MOOREHEAD, late pastor of the Fourth U. P. Church, of Allegheny, has kindly consented to preach for his old congregation to-morrow at 10:30 A. M. At 7 o'clock P. M. he will preach the anniversary sermon of the Ladies' Missionary Society of that church.

WHILE the present spirit of excitement is abroad in the religious communities, Christian people should increase in earnestness and the zeal of church work. They need not cultivate the excitement, but, catching the energetic impulse of awakened hearts, try more and do more in the regular work with which they are associated.

THE Steubenville Gazette says: A young theological student from Pittsburgh preached at the First Church at Cadiz Sunday. He evidently has set up Talmage as a model after which to hew his style. In his sermon he endeavored to impress upon the minds of his hearers that the cause of the hard times was the prevalence of sin. He said a revival of religion would cause a change.

D., of the East End will preach in the evening at 7:30 o'clock.

A GENERAL meeting of the Branch Association of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will be held at Christ M. E. church next Tuesday evening, February 29th. The following topics will be discussed: 1. Rev. Dr. Pershing will speak of the relation of the W. F. M. Society to the Parent Organization. 2. The relation of the pastor to the W. F. M. Society will be presented by Rev. Dr. W. B. Watkins. 3. Rev. E. B. Snyder will show the influence of the W. F. M. Society on the women of the church. At the close of the public services a social meeting will be held, in which all are invited to participate.

WE learn from a reliable source that Very Rev. J. Tuigg, Bishop elect of the diocese of Pittsburgh, has received a letter from Rt. Rev. M. Domenec, in which he informs Father Tuigg of the fact that the bull of the Holy Father creating him Bishop, as aforesaid, have been entrusted to him (Bishop Domenec) for conveyance to the newly elect, and that the appointment is imperative and without appeal. It is not known to even Bishop Domenec himself what the boundaries of the new diocese really are, and all attempts to define them are therefore mere guess work.—Altoona Mirror.

JOSEPH FLEMM.

He Makes a Sworn Statement Explaining the Shooting of Miss Palling.

Joseph Flemm, who was convicted two or three weeks ago of murder in the second degree, for having shot and killed Miss Amelia Maria Palling, yesterday made a lengthy statement to a reporter of one of the city papers, which was sworn to before 'Squire McKenna, explaining how the affair occurred. He said that he had had a quarrel with a man by the name of Threnobohl, which resulted in his purchase of a revolver. On the evening the shooting occurred he called to see Maria, with the pistol in his pocket, with the object of hastening the marriage that had been agreed upon between them. While there, he showed the pistol and he and Miss Palling drew six cartridges from it, believing that it contained no more. Miss Palling then half-cocked the pistol and tried to snap it at Flemm, and because the hammer wouldn't go down, wanted to know what was the matter. Flemm explained the difficulty, and taking the pistol put it on full cock. Miss Palling then snapped it at Flemm several times. After they had been together for some time, Flemm took the pistol, telling her she did not know how to shoot, and cocking the revolver, presented it at her to explain how the operation was performed. The result was the one remaining cartridge exploded with fatal effects. Flemm also positively denied that there had been any improper relations between him and Miss Palling.

Pimples, Eruptions, Rough Skin.

The system being put under the influence of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for a few weeks, the skin becomes smooth, clear, soft and velvety, and being illuminated with the glow of perfect health from within, true beauty stands forth in all its glory. The effects of all medicines which operate upon the system through the medium of the blood are necessarily somewhat slow, no matter how good the remedy employed. While one to three bottles clear the skin of pimples, blotches, eruptions, yellow spots, comedones, or "grubs," a dozen may possibly be required to cure some cases where the system is rotten with scrofulous or virulent blood poisons. The cure of all these diseases, however, from the common pimple to the worst scrofula is, with the use of this most potent agent, only a matter of time. Sold by dealers in medicines. TTHS-S.

Another Robbery and Another Warning.

Mrs. Tolhenny, living at 537 117th street, New York, some time since sold property for $12,000, which she first deposited in a savings bank, but fearing that the bank would break, she removed it to a safe deposit company, for a time, but this cost something, and she thought she could carry it safely about her own person, but forgetting it at home Saturday last, two nice young men slipped in and robbed her of her all. How many people in Pittsburgh, Allegheny and the neighborhood are doing similar foolish things, when for $1 per $1,000 (one-tenth of one per cent.) they might have guaranteed security at the SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY.

A Card.

The court having confirmed the composition offered by us, January 24th, we hereby earnestly request all customers indebted to us on or previous to this date to settle the same at the earliest day possible. Thanking our friends and customers for their liberal patronage, and kind expressions of sympathy during our recent misfortune, we again remind them and the public that our business is to be closed up by April 1st. To this end we have marked our entire stock to prices which already have enabled us to dispose of a large portion of it. We still have on hand bargains in every department, and as the simple purpose is to turn our assets rapidly into cash, the matter of profit and loss hardly enters into our plans.

J. B. HEARD & CO., 52 Sixth street.

DONOVAN AND FRIENDS.

Their Hearing Before the Acting Mayor Yesterday Evening—Threats Against the Prosecutors.

A hearing took place yesterday afternoon at the Central Police Station, before Acting Mayor Butler, in the cases of Jimmy Donovan, Mike Bradford and George, alias "Punch" Long, charged with riot, &c., on Thursday night at Wagner's saloon, No. 144 Smithfield street. In addition to the suit for riot, which includes all the defendants, there is an information against Bradford for assault and battery, preferred by John Smith, the colored professor of vocal gymnastics at Wagner's; an information for felonious assault and battery against Donovan, made by Frank Baker, the musician whom it is said he attempted to shoot, and a charge of felonious assault, also against Donovan, in which George McFadden is the prosecutor. The station house was packed with a mass of men whose bodies exhaled an odor that was anything else but aromatic. Nor was it a pleasure to the eye to rest upon the physiognomies of the most of them. The GAZETTE representative elbowed his way through the crowd to the side of Mr. W. D. Moore, the learned counsel for the defense. Turning his head the legal gentleman recognized the reporter and smilingly said: "These reporters; they are to be found everywhere; they come like the plagues of Egypt." Satisfied with these observations he rested for a moment and then, pending the introduction of his clients to the presence of the Acting Mayor, he threw his gaze upon the crowd of spectators and remarked: "What a sad, forlorn and wretched aspect of human nature this is; 'So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he them; male and female created he them.' It would be useless to search in that crowd for a likeness of the Maker." The reporter, who is familiar with such audiences, instead of manifesting an inclination to dispute the attorney's belief, heartily concurred in its truthfulness. Any further moral soliliquizing was prevented by the arraigning of the prisoners, each of whom, save "Punch" Long, wore a look of deep humility. The chief witness against them was Mrs. Wagner, wife of the proprietor of the saloon at which the row occurred. She told a straight story, and was quite positive in her identification of the defendants as the parties who did the shooting and who abused the musicians at her place, but she was unable to tell which one of them had fired the shot. She stated that the reason the prisoners visited the saloon a second time was to apologize for the row they created on their first visit. At the conclusion of the evidence the magistrate announced that he would hold each of the defendants for trial at Court in the sum of $1,000 on the charge of riot, and that he would require Bradford and Donovan to enter additional bail to the extent of $500 each on the informations for assault and battery and felonious assault and battery against them. Failing to give the security the men were committed. After the hearing it was developed that strenuous efforts and ugly threats had been made to induce the prosecutors to abandon their cases against Donovan and his "pals." The hearing in the McFadden suit, referred to above, did not take place, and it is thought he has been scared away by the friends of the accused.

What a Little Cash Will Do.

If we had been told a few weeks ago that pianos and organs could have been bought at such prices as Mr. Hamilton is now selling off his stock at, we certainly would not have credited it. But a call at his store just now will satisfy any one that if ever they buy to advantage, now is that time, sure. We were utterly surprised at the prices quoted to us by Mr. Hamilton for the most magnificent specimens of the match[illegible] and the very justly [illegible] Estey Cottage Organs; also [illegible] marvelously low prices of good second-hand pianos and organs, some of them almost new, of different makes, such as Geo. A. Prince, Mason & Hamlin, Burdett, Shoninger and others. But as Mr. Hamilton has to get rid of his entire stock before removal, he is compelled to sacrifice these instruments, almost, rather than carry them. Our readers would do well to call at once and secure a real elegant choice. Not so much matter about the cash, terms of payment will be made to suit all, just so the purchasers are responsible. Please remember the place is 77 Fifth avenue, just above Wood street a few doors. You will see the mirrors at the door, and also the announcement of his removal. Take our word for it, it will pay you to call at once.

In the reformation of conduct and character this may be ture, but as regards boots and shoes Mr. R. Replace the worn out boot or shoe, and thus save money, health and life. Boots and shoes retailed at wholesale rates. A single pair as cheap as if bought by the case. Positive bargains. No old stock. Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, February 26, 1876.

Yesterday developed a good average day's business at the banks, with a very fair application for discounts. Merchants, manufacturers, and miscellaneous business men complain still of collections, and are in need of bank favors to make up the deficit thus caused. The surplus of loanable funds is evidently larger than it was a week ago, and bankers are more ready to take desirable outside paper at special rates. The presence of bank examiners, and an expected call from the Comptroller for a statement, cause the banks to keep well within their means in making discounts, but with all this they readily take all acceptable paper. Business wears, in some respects, a brighter aspect than it did a short time since.

Stocks opened firm, but later Union Pacific declined from 68⅝ to 65⅝, which had a depressing effect, and the general list dropped off ¼ to 1¼ per cent. Towards mid-day Union Pacific rallied to 68¼, and the whole market became firm, prices advancing ⅛ to 1½ per cent. The most active stocks were Western Union, Pacific Mail, Lake Shore and Granger shares. During the last hour shares were less active, but the market was firm, and at the close the best prices of the day were generally current. PARIS, February 25.—The Bourse is flat and there is almost a panic. All kinds of securities are falling rapidly. The feeling of anxiety is supposed to be in consequence of the elections. Rentes, 65f 85c.

FRANKFORT, February 25.—United States new 5s, 101⅜.

LONDON, February 25.—The week has been one of great depression. The fortnight settlement, general lack of interest in Stock Exchange operations, and heaviness of the French Bourse combined to render the market extremely dull. Some activity was awakened yesterday by a pressure to sell, and nearly all classes of securities suffered. Foreign paper is under pressure from Paris and adverse rumors about new Egyptian loans, home railways on unfavorable traffic returns for the week, and local causes. To-day, the settlement being completed, there is a better feeling and a slight recovery of prices. The discount market has been steady, but at lower rate, in consequence of heavy shipments of specie and the approaching repayment of the Suez Canal loan, which it is supposed will largely go into Lombard street transactions.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, February 25, 1876.

Trade in commercial circles appears to be picking up somewhat, although there is still plenty of room for improvement; the demand for all the leading staples continues light, being confined to supplying immediate necessities, but with the exception of Roasted Coffee, to which reference was made in our last report, prices have undergone no change for several days.

APPLES—Dealers generally continue to report a steady demand, but there has been no change in prices—sales at $3,50a4,50 ℔ bbl, as to quality and condition.

BUTTER—The market continues active for fine stock, and notwithstanding the receipts have been unusually large during the past week, the supply of strictly prime table butter is not more than sufficient to meet the demand—sales of prime to choice rolls at 28a30c; fancy, 31a32c.

BEANS—Prime navies quoted at $1.15a1,20 ℔ bushel to the trade and 10a15c additional in a jobbing way.

CHEESE—There is a continued steady jobbing demand, and the recent advance of half a cent is sustained; 14a14½c for prime Ohio Factory, and 14½a15 for New York.

EGGS—The market was possibly a little easier in tone to-day, in sympathy with the weather, but prices have undergone but little change—dealers generally quoted at 20c.

FLOUR—The market so far as we can discover does not present a single new feature, deserving of notice. We continue former quotations; Spring wheat flours, $6,25a6.75, the outside figures for choice Minnesotas; red winters, $6.50a7,00; ambers, $7,00a7,50; Rye Flour, $4,75a5,00 per bbl. Buckwheat Flour, 2a2½ cts per lb.

GROCERIES—Coffee is reported very firm at the seaboard, and roasters here have put up prices half a cent in consequence. Sugars are easy and refined goods are down lower than they have been for several years. Molasses and Syrups quiet and unchanged.

GRAIN—The market for Wheat continues quiet and unchanged; prime to choice Ohio and Indiana red, $1a30a1.35. The Oat market is steady with receipts just about sufficient to keep up the supply; quotable at 40a41c for mixed and white, 42a43c. Shelled Corn is possibly a shade firmer, the stock having been considerably reduced by consignments to Baltimore, but there is not much inquiry and prices remain about as last quoted; 45a48c on track, according to condition and quality. Ear Corn is in rather better supply and easier with a light demand. Rye quiet and unchanged at 80a85c.

MILL FEED—Is reported dull but unchanged; Bran, $14a15; Middlings and Chopped Feed, $20a23.

POTATOES—The receipts have slacked up somewhat recently, but with a continued light demand the market is very dull, and prices are weak but not quotably lower; 30a35c on track by the car load and 5a8c additional in a jobbing way from store.

THE IRON TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, February 25, 1876.

Pittsburgh.

PIG IRON—The general position of the Pig Iron trade remains substantially as noted in our last review. The inquiry as a rule is for small lots to meet immediate necessities, buyers generally can see no reason why they should anticipate future wants, and possibly the general spirit of the market is easier, although prices are still maintained. Sellers, however, are hopeful that there wil soon be an increased demand for the products, thereby increasing the consumption of the raw article, and as stocks of the latter are light and the production comparatively so, a large percentage of all the furnaces in the country being out of blast, they calculate on better prices before long. The general feeling appears to be that there will be no change in prices, one way or the other, during the next thirty or sixty days, hence there is no particular disposition manifested to either buy or sell, and the probability is that trade will continue, as it has been, confined to supplying immediate wants. Following sales were reported:

MANUFACTURED IRON—Quotations are still made on a basis of 2,15a2,20, 60 days, for Merchant bars. Trade, while it is not to say active by any means, appears to be picking up somewhat, but there is universal complaint in regard to prices, which it would appear have been cut to such an extent, that there is little or no margin for profit. It is thought by some well informed operators that, as stocks—both in the hands of jobbers and consumers—are comparatively light, there will be an increased demand this spring, and, if so, makers may be able to obtain better prices.

NAILS—Nearly all the factories are in operation, and while some of them are pretty well supplied with orders, others do not report so favorably; however, there does not appear to be any reason apparent why there should not be an average spring and summer trade. Prices may be quoted at $2.60, 60 days, with two per cent. off for cash.

HORSE SHOES—Unchanged, with a fair degree of activity. Shoenberger & Co continue to quote at $5, cash, for round lots and Mule Shoes at 5½c, cash.

SCRAP—The movement in Scrap Iron continues light, and there does not appear to be as much inquiry for Scrap Steel as there were a few weeks ago. No change in prices.

PHILADELPHIA.

Pig Iron—The market continues very quiet, and prices are weak; there has been scarcely any business doing the past week—the demand being of the most limited character. Prices are nominally unchanged, though we hear of a sale of 1,500 to 2,000 tons of No. 2 on private terms, but understood to be at much lower prices than quotations. We repeat our last quotations, which are the present asking rates, viz: $23 for No 1 Foundry; $21 for No. 2 do., and $20a22 for Gray Forge.

Bars—Trade is very quiet, and sales are mostly at 2.35c from store, but 2.5c is paid for favorite brands.

Rails—There is still considerable inquiry for Rails, but not much actual business is developed. We hear of a sale of 3,000 tons iron rails at $44 at the mills, and a sale of several hundred tons, delivered here at a trifle higher price. Steel Rails are nominally $63 to $65, but no sales are reported.

Nails—Quiet and steady at $2.85 to $3 for small lots, with some reduction to buyers of large quantities.

NEW YORK.

American Pig—During the week under review the market has been characterized by even less activity than usual, and we can learn of no large transactions. Prices are nominally unchanged, but there is a growing uncertainty as to future prices, and reports are current of allowances, rebates and other methods that have been practiced by some parties to effect sales without getting the name of breaking the market. Many of the furnace companies have lately held their annual meetings, and the results of the year's business have been far from satisfactory—showing a large loss in the case of some well known companies. We note the sale of 400 tons Thomas No. 1 Foundry at $23. We quote No. 1 Foundry, $23; Foundry No. 2, $21; Gray Forge, $20.—Iron Age.

BRITISH IRON MARKET.

A Sheffield dispatch to the Iron Age, under date of the 22d, reports: Scotch Pig—The market has been depressed during the week, but rallied a little toward the close. Prices are weak. The following are the quotations for Makers' Irons:

Gartsherrie No 1	70s 6d
Coltness No 1	75s 0d
Glengarnock No 1	67s 0d
Eglinton No 1	63s 6d

No change to note in Manufactured Iron or Rails.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, February 25, 1876.

The crude market was very irregular to-day, and the feeling was not as strong as it was yesterday. 'United' certificates were quoted this P. M. at $2,08¾; 'Union' and 'Conduit' at $2,07½; immediate shipment $2.20. The unsettled condition of the market has, as might be expected, checked the demand, as it has created the feeling that there is no good cause for this last sudden and unlooked for advance. Refined was dull, and while there was not much change in prices, there was little or no demand; quoted at 14¾c delivered in Philadelphia; New York, 14½c; on cars here, 11c.

A Committee of Refiners have gone to Richmond, Va., to confer with the officers of the Richmond & Chespeake R. R. Co., with a view of shipping refined oil from here to that point for export, instead of sending it to Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Barrels continue quiet and unchanged; countries, $1,05; city make, $1,15.

Chicago Broom Corn Market.

Remains rather quiet, but is firmly held. The inquiry for seed is as yet small. There is an impression that a large area will be planted in broom corn this coming spring in the States beyond the Mississippi, where the cost of the crop is less than in the older States, and the result this season has been quite satisfactory to the farmers. Broom corn appears to be 'going west.' Quotations: Choice old hurl, 10a11c; No. 2 hurl, 7½a9c; choice medium, 6¾a7½c; good medium brush, 6½c; fair inside and covers, 5a5½c; inferior, 4a4½c; crooked, 3a6c.

LONDON, February 25.—There have been no changes in the grain trade. Values remained stationary, while the demand has been stimulated only in cases of finer samples. A majority of the provincial markets have been quiet and steady, but in a few instances there has been a small decline in all leading staples. At Paris the market remains rather dearer than in London for wheat and flour. The attendance at Mark Lane to-day was very small, and the feeling one of dejection. There were no buyers at old rates, which are asked even for the best qualities. Wheat is neglected. Last week's deliveries of English are fair, and foreign supplies are comparatively moderate.

The regular weekly circular of the Liverpool Cotton Brokers' Association says cotton continues dull, and quotations of all descriptions are further reduced. American has been in rather better demand, but the quantity offering is still so great that prices have further declined a farthing for lower and an eighth of a penny for medium grades. Middling and fair qualities are unchanged. Sea Island staple remains in very moderate demand. Quotations of middle and lower grades of Florida have been reduced a half penny. The transactions in futures have been increased, but prices, after some slight fluctuations, are fully an eighth of a penny below those of last week.

According to the breadstuffs circulars the wheat trade throughout the kingdom is uniformly dull, although there is little or no further depression in prices, either in British or foreign. The cargoes off the coast are gradually disappearing, there being only thirty-one ships remaining out of the recently very large fleet. There is more steadiness in spot prices. Very little business is reported in wheat, and prices are nominally unchanged. Corn is in good request, but there is no improvement in value except for dry, new American, which has advanced from three pence to six pence.

FOUR boats were lost during the past week—Lotus, Bill Henderson, Quincy, and Lowry.

THE John B. Maude is a regular Wednesday New Orleans and Grand Ecore Red river packet.

THE C. B. Church, en route from New Orleans to Cincinnati, has 50 hhds. of sugar for Pittsburgh.

THE towboat Smoky City arrived with a tow of empty barges. The Granite State was the only departure.

THE Allegheny continues to put out considerable ice, but it is not heavy enough to interfere seriously with navigation.

THE Ida Stockton, after trying her luck in Arkansas, White and the St. Francis rivers, is on her way to St. Louis, on a hunt for business.

BENJAMIN F. BRASHEAR, aged 70 years, died in New Orleans on the 21st inst. The deceased was one of the oldest Cincinnati and New Orleans pilots.

THE I. N. Phillips arrived at Wheeling on Thursday with three barges of coal for the Riverside Mill, and the C. W. Hornbrook reached there the same day.

THE Mallie Ragon left Wheeling on Thursday for this port, but, the floating ice being too strong for her, she was turned back. She will remain at Wheeling until the ice thins out.

A MEMPHIS dispatch, under date of Wednesday, says: The towboat Joseph B. Williams is here, fixing her condenser pumps, and will work on down with only the high pressure engine.

The Smoky City, while passing up on Wednesday night with a tow of empty barges, ran into the steamer Ike Hammitt, which is lying at the Wheeling water works. No damage was done.

THE Whale and barges, Capt. C. F. Adams, will positively depart for St. Louis to-day, and shippers are requested to get their freight and bills of lading down as early in the day as possible.

FOLLOWING Pittsburghers are passengers on the Sherlock, en route for New Orleans: Rev. J. W. Joyce, Mrs. Hull, G. W. Noggle, wife and son; Mrs. S. A. Bryant, Miss Snyder, Mr. McIntosh, wife and two daughters; Mr. Pennock Hart.

THE fine sidewheeler Arlington, Capt. Dan Moore, will positively take her departure for St. Louis to-day, leaving promptly at noon and no freight will be received after 12 o'clock. Those of our readers desiring to visit Cincinnati to witness the Mardi-Gras festivities, have here an excellent opportunity presented.

THE cargo of the sunken steamer City of Quincy aggregates in value $60,000, and comprises 550 hhds sugar, 200 bbls molasses, 5 bales cotton, some whisky and wine. The sugar is about half lost; other freights not hurt much. New Orleans insurance companies held risks of $30,000, and St. Louis the remainder, except hull risks of $18,000, which were placed at Cincinnati.

MOUND CITY, (Ill.) Journal: The large fleet of snag-boats now lying here gives the old navy-yard somewhat of the appearance it had during the war. Including the steam-tenders Ariadne and Daphne, there are eight vessels in the fleet. Besides those named there are the J. N. Macomb, R. E. DeRussey, S. H. Long, Octavia, Thomas Trunnell, and J. J. Abert. Capt. John Wherry, of the Macomb, is the only commanding officer belonging to these boats that remain with the fleet.

THE Arlington has a large number of passengers engaged already, as will be seen by the following: N. J. Bigley and two daughters, John Bigley, Mrs Ackley and two daughters, Brice Ray and wife, R. T. White and friend, Mr. Sweeney and friend, H. B. Ackley, Mr. Budd, R. M. Hawkins, W. L. Thompson and friend, A. Warner, Mr. Miller and niece, Mr. Gebhart and son, Mr. B. Irwin and wife, Miss Sallie Thompson, Mr. Conrad Strum and family of five persons, Mrs. W. E. Dever, Miss J. Alexander, Hen. T. Sturgeon, Simon Brownlee and daughter, Capt. J. V. Carter, Gen. J. W. Reilly, Miss Lee and J. M. Walker. This number will no doubt be largely increased to-day.

BURNING OF THE MAY LOWRY.—We glean from New Orleans papers the following particulars in regard to the burning of the May Lowry. On Sunday morning, at half-past 5 o'clock, the steamboat May Lowry, while lying at the wharf at Carrollton, en route from Jefferson, Texas, to New Orleans, took fire, and, with a large cargo of cotton and cotton seed, burned to the water's edge.

From Capt. Wm. Braithwaite, who commanded the boat, were gleaned the following particulars of the casualty: During Saturday night while the boat was descending the river, Capt. Braithwaite instructed the mate to the effect that if the boat should near New Orleans before daylight, he had better lay up at Carrollton, as the Lowry being an unwieldy craft, he didn't want to take the chances of running against the monitor Canonicus, in an attempt to make the landing at New Orleans. Accordingly, the boat reaching Carrollton about 5:30 A. M., Sunday, she was run up to the Carrollton wharf and made fast. No sooner had this been done than some one suddenly raised the alarm of fire, and flames were seen bursting from amidships, directly under the office. So rapid was the headway of the blaze, that, do the best they could, the officers and crew barely escaped to the shore before the boat was burning from stem to stern.

The work of destruction was then speedily effected and in an hour the Lowry was burned to the water. Not a thing was saved by the crew or officers—the boat carried no passengers—and they lost everything in the way of personal effects, while the papers, books, money, etc., belonging to the boat were saved. Of the consignees of the cargo, it is known that 470 bales of cotton were consigned to C. L. Walmsley & Co., of New Orleans.

The Lowry was a stern-wheeler, plying in the New Orleans and Jefferson trade; was owned by W. Braithwaite, her captain, and W. J. Kountz, and was valued at $12,000, upon which there was no insurance.

Her cargo consisted of 1,380 bales of cotton, 982 sacks of cotton seed, and sundries. The origin of the fire is at present a mystery. Capt. Braithwaite says he can in nowise account for it; that the cotton was all covered with tarpaulins, and that where the fire broke out the cotton was so closely packed that it seems impossible that anybody could have got there to do the damage.
